

10. Can our group make any changes to our bylaws?

Each group's bylaws have been reviewed and approved by the IRS during the application process for the group exemption. Changes to bylaws should be minimal, but we do recognize there may be times when changes are needed.

All proposed changes must be sent to <mailto:prubopres@gmail.com> for review, PRIOR to being voted in by your members. This is to make sure you are not removing any required information or your changes will not affect your groups' eligibility for exemption recognition. Please allow a minimum of 2 weeks for PRUBO to review.

Once PRUBO has approved the proposed bylaw updates, they can be presented to your groups' membership for a vote, according to the approval process outlined within the groups' bylaws. Once your membership has approved, please forward an updated copy, along with the amendment log, to the PRUBO President. This updated copy will be forwarded to the IRS in the PRUBO Annual Report.
